Guest Speaker – Councillor for Orakei Ward

Cameron Brewer

Cameron Brewer was elected councillor for the Orakei ward on the inaugural Auckland Council on 9 October 2010. A total of 18,228 people voted for him – making him the fifth highest polling Auckland councillor. He beat local veteran and Auckland City Council's highest polling councillor for 2007, Doug Armstrong, by over 7,000 votes – the largest margin achieved by an Auckland councillor in the 2010 elections. Brewer was also the only councillor who obtained majority support – that is over 51.5% of Orakei voters voted for him.

Elected at 37, he is the second youngest Auckland councillor and the only one not to have served on a council before.

He is chairman of the Business Advisory Panel and chairman of the Planning & Urban Design Forum. He is also deputy chairman of the Economic Development Forum.

He already had a personal profile in Auckland, largely due to his hard work as leader of the second largest business association in New Zealand for over five years.

He stepped down as chief executive of the Newmarket Business Association to campaign full-time on 8 September 2010. He'd been in that position since 2 May 2005

What Other Business Owners Are Saying After Attending The StreetSmart Advertising Workshop...

“From our 2008 Yellow Pages ad we booked 3 jobs a month which generated $1,459. In 2009, we tested four different headlines and also changed the wording to make it more benefit oriented and customer focused. Since then we have booked 21 jobs a month which has generated $11,553 in revenue. That’s a massive 692% increase in the revenue generated from our old ad.”

Regan Frost, Owner, Regency Plumbing

Jeff Pothan, Owner
Skylight Installations

“Our Yellow Pages ad works fantastically and our phone rings off the hook. We have had a 76% increase in the number of leads and our turnover has increased from $7600 per month to $28,400 per month since working with Marti and re-designing our ad. All this in just 7 months!!!”

Just one strategy increased the response by 76% from one quarter page ad in the Yellow Pages!
